FRENCH TROOPS ADVANCE WITH SUCH SPEED THAT PICK OF PRUSSIAN GUARD DESERTS HEAVY AND FIELD ARTILLERY

6,000 GERMANS ARE CAPTURED

Reported More German Men Lie on Present Battlefield Than Ever Seen in One Spot Before—Hand Grenades and Bayonets Used; Attempts Made to Blow Up Fort While Traps Are Set to Catch French—Germans Drawing Men From Eastern Front to Meet British and French Superiority By Weight of Men

Paris, France, May 6.—Every gain caused by the French in yesterday's brilliant advance northeast of Soissons, was maintained against numerous heavy counter attacks last night. Consolidation of this ground has made them masters of most of the ridge crowned by the Chemin-des-Dames along a front of more than eighteen miles. The prisoners taken have reached a total of 5,800 and seven cannon have been captured.

Great Headquarters of the French armies in France, May 6.—From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press. Not only have the last two days of fighting along the Chemin-des-Dames delivered more than 6,000 prisoners to the French, but have given them positions whence they can operate on the principal German defensive lines occupying the trend of the northern side of the Ailette valley.

From Laffaux hill to Craonne the entire Chemin-des-Dames with the exception of a very small section, is held firmly by the French, who have thoroughly organized their gains in defiance of all efforts to oust them.

Counter attacks were tried by the Germans last night at many points, with great masses of men who displayed the ferocity of despair, but they were beaten back again and again. The very French troops of all regiments, each one of which emulates its neighbor in bravery, was too much for the Germans, who surrendered in large bodies, unable to withstand the French impetuosity.

The French advanced so rapidly that some of the German heavy artillery could not be removed and was captured, together with some of their field artillery. Everywhere the selected soldiers of the Prussian guard were unable to stem the advance. They were brought up in motor lorries when the other Germans had wavered and fallen back, but all they accomplished was to increase the bag of prisoners. While the guard were alighting under the lorries they were caught under a heavy fire of the French returning from the line and the number of German men lying on the battlefield is greater than ever seen on one spot during the fighting in France.

The correspondent of the Associated Press watched the battle from the position whence the French went over to the attack north of Nanteuil-la-Fosse and Sancy to the northwest were Laffaux hill, while on the northeast Fort Mal Maillon, dismantled before the war, stood out like a square block on the horizon. In the center was L'Ange gardien, where the Chemin-des-Dames breaks off from the Soissons-Buzancy road.

The battle hereabout was most interesting as the possession of Laffaux will give the occupants an enfilading position along the Chemin-des-Dames and the Ailette. The German resistance here reached its highest point, but could not prevail against the powerful blows of the French attack. The Germans countered after the French had taken their front line, but were again blow for blow, the French eventually wearing down their opponents. Several ruined farm houses, such as those of Memmisan, Colon, Bo, Royere and Epinne-D-Chevreux, the latter directly on the Chemin-des-Dames, were scenes of fierce engagements with hand grenades and bayonets. In these the French came out victors.

This morning nearly 30 kilometers of Chemin-des-Dames were in French hands.

The correspondent while on his way to the battlefield, visited an abandoned fort from which Soissons was formerly bombarded almost daily by the Germans. Before they were forced out the Germans exploded forty tons of powder in an effort to destroy the structure, and laid mines and traps for the French. One electric fuse was found, but German prisoners informed the French that it was only a dummy, and indicated the position where another was connected with a powerful mine intended to blow up anyone entering the fort.

Recent Terrible Fighting.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press with the British army in France, May 6, via London.—While the fighting for the past fortnight has wrought comparatively little change geographically along the British front, it has as a matter of fact been of almost as great importance as any during the entire war. It has compelled the Germans to throw in such vast numbers of reserves that comparatively few of the five or more front divisions assigned to the western front this year by Field Marshal von Hindenburg remained unscathed by the daimers of the French and British offensive battles. In view of this it is small wonder that the press reports from Petrograd assert that German divisions have been withdrawn from this Russian front and started for France.

There is no denying that since the British Easter Monday offensive took them by surprise and drove them from some of their most formidable positions the Germans have fought with great tenacity and stubbornness, but at what cost they alone can correctly reckon. They have endeavored to meet the allies superiority in artillery by sheer weight of men, which has meant a material weakening of their fortified zone. Thus, when one line of men, has been swept away there is another and another. How long such tactics can continue, how long the German soldiers can endure the withering blasts of artillery which is ever upon them, is purely a matter of conjecture.

German military writers have been referring of late to the Hindenburg line as a living, mobile wall, which by means of its various switch lines, can bend backward and forward as if moving on so many hinges. Now, however, the men of the living wall are fighting behind great barriers of their dead.

The Germans, in fact, seem to be carrying out their defensive battle with the same unshakable belief in the power of man that characterized their first onslaught upon the forts of the Belgian frontier, and, later, their offensive against Verdun.

The British assaulting line, in their recent fighting, backed by the overwhelming weight of the artillery behind them, have been in nothing like the strength of the German defending troops. Similarly, the Germans have delivered their counter attacks with forces often outnumbering threefold the British forces holding the position upon which the attacks were directed. The Germans had to make these counter attacks across the open, under the very eyes of the British field guns and the losses entailed have been visibly enormous.

It is impossible to visit a battery in the Arras sector without hearing of the wonderful shooting they have had of late. There has been nothing like it since the war began, so far as the British are concerned, and the khaki gunners feel that they are paying many old scores of the early days when the German artillery dominated and there was not a single high caliber British cannon on the continent.

The co-operation of the airplanes and the artillery in smashing the counter attacks has been little short of marvelous. The flying machine has quickly discovered the gathering of troops and has sent the details by wireless back to the batteries, with the result that the guns were trained and ready the moment the gray-clad hordes issued from the protecting trees or a village, simply smothering them under high explosives and a sheet of lead shrapnel rain.

When it is recalled that, as at Gavrelle, there have been high up to 20 unsuccessful counter attacks of this character, some idea of the German losses can be had. Since the dead left behind tell the tale, great effort has been made lately by the Germans to clear the battlefield of their dead whenever it is possible to do so.

Attorney General Praises Allies.

Washington, D. C., May 6. — High praise of the conduct of America's foreign born citizens is given by Attorney General Gregory in a statement tonight revealing that since the United States entered the war only 125 alien enemies have been arrested under the president's proclamation. About half of those arrested were charged with espionage or attempt to commit disloyalty or disorder. The remainder are held because it was decided that they would be dangerous to the government if permitted to remain at large.

Open Advance Rate Fight Today.

Washington, D. C., May 6. — The railroads of the country will open here tomorrow their fight for a general 15 per cent advance in freight rates, confident that a substantial advance, if not the percentage sought, will be granted.

Virtually every one of the hundreds of companies operating the network of steam transportation lines in the country, nearly 250,000 miles in extent, will be represented at the hearing before the interstate commerce commission.

MILITARY CENSUS BY CIVIL OFFICIALS

Government Seeks Democratic
Enrolling Method

LIABLE MEN MUST SIGN

State Governors Chief Registrars,
Sheriffs and Clerks in Charge
in Each County

Washington, D. C., May 5. — An official outline of the method by which military registration is to be carried out under the selective conscription bill, was made public today, with an appeal from the War department for the voluntary services of state election and other officials in order that there will be no delay in enrolling and classifying millions of men for army duty. Careful preparation has been made to place the whole task in the hands of civilian officials of the states and to remove every suggestion of military force in putting the measure into effect. The only function of the federal government will be supervisory through the office of the provost marshal general. The department's statement follows:

There was a time in the country's history when military enumerators, backed by bayonets, went out among the people to take a compulsory service census. Today, under the principle of universal liability to service the execution of the law is put into the hands of the people.

The approval of the new national army bill and the President's proclamation thereunder will be coincident. All persons within the age limits prescribed will be required to present themselves for registration at the customary voting places in the voting precincts in which they have their permanent homes, on a day which the President will announce. The probability is that from 10 to 15 days will elapse between approval of the bill and registration day.

The governor of each state will be the chief of registration therein. The machinery of registration in each county is to be in charge of the sheriff, the county clerk, and the county physician, acting ex officio, unless a different board shall be announced by the governor. In cities containing populations of more than 30,000, the registration will be under the control of the mayor and selected boards of registration. In order that the designated county and city officials, and the people generally, can get a clear understanding of the census methods, the following brief outline is given:

The sheriffs or other designated officials, immediately upon receiving notice from the governor, shall appoint registrars for each voting precinct.

The Apportionment of Registrars.

The proportion of registrars shall be one for each 170 persons to be registered. Each age to be registered will comprise about one per cent of the population.

If, for instance, all men between 19 and 25 years of age, inclusive, are to be registered, the registrar would have to enroll seven per cent of the precinct population.

It is desirable to accept the services of competent volunteer registrars to serve without compensation. All registrars must be sworn.

The voting place in each precinct must be prepared for registration. Full printed instructions covering every detail of registration will be in the hands of sheriffs and mayors on the fifth day after the President's proclamation.

In Cities of Over 30,000 Population.

The mayor of a city containing more than 30,000 inhabitants, or the officials designated by the governor therein, shall, with approval of the governor, appoint for each ward or convenient minor sub-division containing about 30,000 people one registration board, and shall designate one officer of each board to perform duties similar to those imposed on the sheriff, as heretofore outlined. If the mayor desires, he may appoint a central board to co-ordinate the work of minor boards.

Duties of County and City Clerks.

On the fifth day after the president has issued his proclamation, clerks of counties and cities of over 30,000 must secure a supply of blanks and copies of the registration regulations from the sheriff or from the mayor. Absentees and the sick will apply to such clerks to have their registration cards filled out. In no case shall such persons be given registration certificates. They are to be instructed by the clerk that the burden is on them to see to it that the cards reach the registrars of their home precincts by registration day.

Persons absent from their home counties may be registered by mail. If so absent, a man should go to the clerk of the county where he may be staying, on the sixth day after the date of the president's proclamation. If he is in a city of over 30,000 population, the city clerk is the official to whom to apply. The absentee will be told how to register, but he must mail his card in time to reach his precinct by registration day.

EXPECT ATTACK ON PETROGRAD.

Petrograd, Russia, May 6, via London, England. — Petrograd is again warned of an impending German attack upon it by way of Libau, in an army order which directs the disposition of forces to resist such an attack. The warning was given by General Korniloff, commanding the troops in the Petrograd district, who in his order of the day says:

"We have received reports that the enemy is concentrating large forces against our northern front. German merchantmen are at Libau, ready as soon as the ice has melted to embark troops, and under cover of the German fleet to carry out a landing which may possibly be made quite close to Petrograd."

"In order to create a new army capable of stubbornly defending our capital against the assault of an enemy from abroad and of consolidating the freedom won by Russia, I order the reorganization of the reserve element in the district in accordance with the orders I have already issued to the first line troops. These reorganized elements must remain in Petrograd in conformity with the declaration of the provisional government and must be ready to defend civil liberty and, in the event of an enemy movement against Petrograd, oppose and defeat the enemy on the outskirts of the capital."

ing of the proclamation. The clerk will give instructions for registration.

Educational and Other Institutions.

Officials of educational, charitable and other institutions should apply for instructions to the county or city clerk on the sixth day after the date of the proclamation for instructions as to a convenient method of registration.

The wardens of jails, penitentiaries and reformatories should apply to the county or city clerk for instructions on the sixth day.

Five days after the date of the president's proclamation complete regulations will be in the hands of all sheriffs and of the officials of cities of over 20,000 population.

The president is authorized to call upon all public officers to assist in the execution of the law. The plan is, however, to rely on the people for the proper execution of the law. It is expected that patriotic citizens will offer their services free as registrars. Such services will be gratefully acknowledged. Volunteers for this service should communicate immediately with the proper official.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FOR BUSY READERS

The Germans have hurled counter attack after counter attack against the French in their newly acquired position northeast of Soissons, taken in their advance toward Laon, and eastward along the Chemin-des-Dames, but their efforts were useless. General Nicell's men clung tenaciously to them throughout Saturday night and Sunday and inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans. The greater portion of the right of the military front has been consolidated and as a result of today's fighting, 6,100 prisoners have been taken back of the lines.

Not content with Saturday's gain northeast of Soissons, the French Sunday enlarged their holdings by capturing in isolated operations important German points of support north of the Moulin de Laffaux and north of Benraye-en-Laonnois.

The Berlin official communication in referring to Saturday's battle, declares that the French attempt to break through the German line was unavailing and that the gigantic thrust was entirely repulsed. It admits, however, that the intense fire of the French guns destroyed completely the German position on the Winterburg and that this eminence and several adjacent sectors were occupied by the French. The Berlin war office asserts that the French "after their sanguinary defeat" of Saturday did not repeat their attack Sunday.

East of Bullecourt, which lies midway between Arras and Cambrai, where the British and Germans last week engaged in sanguinary encounters, with the advantage lying with Field Marshal Haig's forces, the Germans Saturday night by a counter attack endeavored to regain their lost ground. They were successful, however, and a similar attempt Sunday was put down by the British artillery, although the Germans threw large defenses into the fray.

With renewed reports from Petrograd that the trouble between the council of workmen, women and soldiers' delegates and the provisional government has been amicably settled, with fresh advice, indicating that the military commander in Petrograd fears a German attack by way of the Gulf of Finland. The commander reports the presence of German merchantmen in Libau, apparently waiting for the ice to break up in order to transport troops under convoy of warships to attack the capital and has ordered a reorganization of the reserve forces to defend it.

A German airplane for the first time during the war, has flown over Odessa, Russia's principal seaport on the Black sea, according to a German official communication. The communication says that bombs were dropped by the aircraft.

U-BOAT DEVICE STILL A MYSTERY

Daniels, However, Satisfied
Something Will Be Found

SAUNDERS TO EXPLAIN

Chairman Adicks Says Progress
Is Being Made With Some Novel Devices

Washington, D. C., May 6.—Advice from the naval consulting board concerning progress made toward finding a solution for the submarine menace referred to New York yesterday by Chairman W. L. Saunders of the board, had not reached the navy department tonight but were expected tomorrow. Secretary Daniels said that while no information would be made public as to the nature of experiments which have been in progress he was satisfied that America's ingenuity eventually would check the undersea boat.

Mr. Daniels spoke, however, without knowledge of the specific devices with which the members of the consulting board have been experimenting and his confidence was based wholly upon the record for mechanical inventiveness which American engineers and scientists have maintained for years.

A telegram to the Associated Press from Lawrence Adicks of Elizabeth, N. J., chairman of the special naval problems committee of the consulting board, served to clear off somewhat misapprehension concerning Mr. Saunders' statement yesterday. The message follows:

"I fear some of the statements in the morning papers regarding the naval consulting board may unwittingly give wrong impressions regarding progress made in combating the submarine menace and that conclusions are likely to be drawn that the problem has been fully solved or given up as hopeless."

"While it is evident that specific information as to progress made would be contrary to public policy at this time, as chairman of the committee of the board dealing specifically with the marine menace I feel justified in saying that good and satisfactory progress has been made and that we have now under practical trial some novel devices of great promise."

WANT LITTLE MAN TO TAKE WAR LOAN BONDS

SUBSCRIPTIONS FLOOD TREASURY FROM BANKS OR WEALTHY CLASS

Washington, D. C., May 6.—The golden flood of subscription to the Liberty loan continued to sweep in upon the treasury today without abatement. Officials estimated that since 2 o'clock Saturday, when the last compilation was made, offers had been received by wire totaling as much as the big aggregate made public last night, $172,000,000. Should this estimate be correct the total thus far approaches $500,000,000.

Thus far only the banks and wealthy individuals have been heard from. The small investor's voice has not been heard, except indirectly. Officials believe that a great army of men of moderate means are willing and anxious to invest in the bonds and to this end a program is under consideration which will enable virtually everyone in the country with only a small amount to spare, to buy at least one bond.

It is indicated that small investors will be permitted, in some manner yet to be formulated, to pay for bonds by installment lasting over a considerable period of time. In this, treasury officials have the support of many banks, some of which have offered to accept payment as small as $5 a month. Department stores and other agencies also have offered to co-operate in this plan.

To encourage individual subscription, treasury officials have approved a design of a button, to be worn in the coat lapel stating that the wearer is the owner of a Liberty bond. One button will be given to each subscriber. The legend on the button has not been finally approved, but it may read as follows:

"I own a Liberty bond. Do you?"

The need of individual subscriptions to the loan was pointed out tonight by Secretary McAdoo.

Having Trouble Convincing People.

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 6, via London, England.—All is apparently not easy sailing for the German military authorities in their effort to convince the people at home that everything is going well on the western front.

The German military critics occasionally refer in their articles to letters of criticism from readers on this or that feature of the war reports, indicating not only an unwillingness to take the official bulletin and the dispatches of the war correspondents at their face value but also that the number of doubting Thomases is large.

Another point now made is the refusal of the British and French to discontinue attacking, despite the often reiterated official declaration that the general offensive has broken down in defeat.

RUSSIAN SITUATION EASIER

Temporary Government Prepares
Statement Regarding Foreign Policy of Nation.

Petrograd, Russia, May 4, via London, England, May 6.—The controversy between the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates and the provisional government, which for the last 24 hours has threatened such serious consequences, in which, in fact the state of the nation and possibly of the war, were involved, has been settled.

Prince Tseretelli, speaking before a tremendous gathering of soldiers and workmen, who crowded the naval cadets building, where the council held a special meeting to receive the report of the executive council, declared that the government had prepared a new declaration concerning its foreign policy, which was in definite language, corresponding to the proclamation of April 9 and embodied the views of the Proletariat.

LIQUOR QUESTION MAY FORCE FIGHT

EXTRA SESSION HOVERS OVER STATE LEGISLATURE

Albany, May 6.—The breach between Governor Whitman and the Republican leaders of the senate, which has been widening steadily since the legislature convened in January, has become a seemingly impassable gulf, and this week, the last of the session, is expected to culminate in a fight to a finish over the Hill-Wheeler local option bill. The spectre of an extra session hovers over the capitol, as the executive has declared he will call the members back unless the measure is enacted in a form satisfactory both to himself and to the Republican majority in the assembly.

Unless one of the 11 Republican senators recedes from his position on Friday in voting to amend the bill in a manner obnoxious to the governor, its authors and the assembly majority, Elton R. Brown, senate Republican leader, will muster the necessary votes to score a victory over the executive. Senator William H. Hill of Broome, one of the introducers of the bill, declares that in that event the governor will call the legislature back in extraordinary session, at which time it is probable that Mr. Whitman will demand the enactment, as a war measure, of a complete prohibitory law effective until one year after the conclusion of the war and with the provision that no community may again become licensed territory without a referendum.

There is a possibility that a conference committee of the senate and assembly may reach an agreement on the measure. Supporters of the bill and Speaker Sweet express the view, however, that there can be no compromise that does not eliminate the Brown amendment requiring the cities to determine one question of absolute prohibition rather than to vote on four questions relating to the sale of liquor in saloons, in stores, in pharmacies and in hotels.

In addition to local option several of the more ambitious items on the legislative program remain to be acted upon in the closing hours of the session. These include the senate taxation committee's excise bill, to increase liquor tax revenues; measures to regulate the motion picture industry, tax films and legalize Sunday "movies"; the repeal of the Frawley law governing public boxing contests; bills to abolish district primaries and return to the old system of party nominating conventions; reorganization of senate and assembly districts; reorganization of the public service commissions by consolidating them into one board; revenue measures in connection with the war emergency, including an increase in the secured debt tax and imposing a tax of three per cent on the net incomes of mercantile and manufacturing corporations, amending the state constitution by requiring all voters after 1920 to be able to read and write English.

The assembly has twice defeated the attempt to repeal the Frawley law, but a new bill with this end in view has been introduced in the senate and may be called up before adjournment.

Speaker Sweet of the assembly is authority for the statement that neither the judiciary committee's bill to restore party nominating conventions nor the Thompson bill to consolidate the public service commissions will pass the assembly, to which they were sent after favorable action in the senate. As the speaker is chairman of the assembly rules committee, to which all legislation is referred in the closing weeks of the session, it is considered doubtful if either of these measures is reported out for debate.

The reapportionment bill, now in the senate mortuary of general orders, will be advanced under a special rule and passed, as it is necessary that a reapportionment bill be enacted this year as a substitute for last year's measure, which was declared unconstitutional by the court of appeals on account of the manner in which the district boundaries in New York city were laid out. This defect has been corrected and so far as the rest of the state is concerned, the measure is the same as last year.

The excise bill, which its sponsors claim, will net the state an annual revenue of $27,000,000, or about $3,000,000 more than under the existing laws, will be passed in the senate tomorrow night, as its provisions are generally satisfactory to both the majority and the minority members.

REPORT CUBAN NEGRO UPRISING

Refugees Reaching New York
Predict Massacre of Whites

THOUSANDS ARE ARMED

President Menocal Given Until May 20 to Head Rebel Demands; Using Torch Now

New York, May 6.—Charges that Cuban negro rebels are burning and pillaging the homes and property of Americans and other foreigners in the district of Pinarito, Bayatan and Miranda, Oriente province, were made by 24 American and British refugees who arrived here today. They predicted that there will be a massacre of the white residents remaining, unless the United States intervenes, and asserted that the Cuban government is powerless to cope with the situation. Most of the refugees escaped with only the clothes they wore.

The accusation was sustained by an appeal for aid signed by 116 Americans remaining in the territory occupied by the rebels. The appeal, the refugees said, will be filed with the state department at Washington.

The threat of a massacre is contained in a statement included in the appeal, alleged to have been written by General Blas Maso. The statement Maso is reputed to have made said:

"You will hear louder and we will destroy until your howling will be heard in Washington, and force American intervention. For the time being we will not fight the government troops and we will not touch you unless you oppose us. We are only fighting now with the torch, terrorizing and organizing."

"But if Menocal does not step out May 20, we will fight and kill. We are 15,000 rebels in this province, all well armed and the whole province will become a wilderness. Your government can prevent this by intervention."

"I invite an American commission to come to the interior and see our forces, see the destruction that we are making, and tell their government the truth."

The statement concludes with the following message from the general's aid:

"You will notice that we rebels are negroes to a man. You will remember the negro revolution in 1912, when 5,000 negroes were killed in this province."

"We remember, too, and now that we are armed the death of 5,000 defenseless negroes in 1912 shall be avenged in a horrible war, I assure you."

George Buxton of Norwalk, Conn., asserted that he rebels held full sway in Oriente province outside of Santiago and, enclaves.

"Burning and pillaging," he said, "are far from infrequent. The atrocities committed on the whites in Mexico have not a thing on what has been done and what is being done now in Cuba."

MUCH LEGISLATION TO COME UP THIS WEEK

MANY MEASURES ASSOCIATED WITH THE WAR TO BE CONSIDERED

Washington, D. C., May 6. — Numerous war measures will be perfected or passed this week by congress. The list to be acted on includes the army draft, war revenue, food control, and espionage measures, the annual army appropriation bill, the rivers and harbors bill, and the bill authorizing the president to put the German merchant ships in service.

Conferees on the war army bill are expected to make their report in a day or two. With conscription assured, interest in the bill centers on the age limit compromise, which is expected to be either between 21 and 30, or 21 and 35, and the senate's provision which would permit Colonel Roosevelt to organize a force for service in France. The house is expected to agree on a compromise on the age limit, but there will be a strong fight against the Roosevelt proposal should it be agreed to by house conferees.

The house ways and means committee probably will complete and report tomorrow or Tuesday its war revenue bill designed to raise about $1,800,000,000 to meet half the expenses of the first year of war.

Confessed Murderer Lynched by Mob.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 6. — Star Dalley, who, by his own confession, killed Ray Gibson of Tucson last Thursday night, and then assaulted Mrs. Gibson, was hanged by a mob of citizens today. The coroner's jury declared Dalley was a "victim of justifiable homicide committed by persons unknown to the jury."

Dalley was taken from a sheriff's party which was attempting to flee with him from the threatening crowd which was forming here. Automobiles were used by the pursuing citizens, and when the sheriff's car was caught the deputies did not resist.

Dalley's executioner resented the word's prayer in a chorus, after the confession Dalley was then placed on top of an automobile, which was driven out from under him and he swung to death.

Canvas Water Bags For Foresters

A canvas water bag that can be carried conveniently on a pack horse is used by members of the United States forest service when it is necessary to transport water to places remote from a regular supply for drinking and cooking purposes. It can also be used to quench incipient fires by means of a small hand pump carried along with it. The container is made of heavy cotton fabric without seams or patches, rendered water tight by treatment with a mixture of paraffin and turpentine. Each bag has a capacity of ten and three-quarters gallons of water and weighs when filled about ninety-eight pounds. Thus a pack load of two bags weighs nearly 200 pounds, exclusive of pack saddle and blanket.—Popular Mechanics.

FIRST U. S. WAR VESSEL TO BE FIRED ON BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

U. S. DESTROYER SMITH.

The United States destroyer Smith, which was fired upon by a German submarine off the Long Island coast, the torpedo missing its mark by 30 yards. The Smith enjoys the distinction of being the first American war vessel to have been subjected to submarine attack. The Smith was built in 1910, is 289 feet long and has a draught of eight feet. Her armament consists of three 18-inch torpedo tubes and five three-inch rapid-fire rifles. She was named after Captain Joseph E. Smith, a hero of the Civil war. The submarine submerged immediately after firing the shot and escaped in the darkness.

BASEBALL GAMES PUT BACK BY COLD WEATHER

BUT BEST OF YEAR'S PITCHING WAS SHOWN LAST WEEK

New York, May 6.—Cold and rainy weather played havoc with the schedule of the major leagues the past week. Twenty-four games, eleven in the National and thirteen in the American, were postponed to be played later.

Despite the handicap, however, of rain-soaked grounds, some good baseball was shown, especially on Wednesday, which brought forth probably the best pitching of the year.

Vaughn of Chicago, and Toney of Cincinnati, set up a record at Chicago when they went nine innings without allowing the opposing batsmen a hit or run. Vaughn weakened in the tenth and Cincinnati won 1 to 0. On the same day New York and Brooklyn battled fourteen innings to a 2-2 tie. In the American there were two shut outs by scores of 2 to 0. Fisher helped New York beat Washington, with Johnson in the box and Baum pitched Detroit to victory over St. Louis.

New York held its leadership in the National until Sunday, when St. Louis went ahead through a 4 to 0 victory over Cincinnati. St. Louis lost two to Chicago and won two from Pittsburgh during the week, and with Chicago, which continued a winning pace, may be troublesome for the eastern teams when the western teams come east this week. Philadelphia and Brooklyn did not lose a game and improved their position at the expense of Boston, which fell to seventh place, and New York, which did not win a game.

The tie for first place in the American was broken and Boston, which took two games from Philadelphia, now has a commanding lead over Chicago, which failed to keep up its previous good gait. New York held on to first place while breaking even in a four game series with Washington. St. Louis climbed from sixth to fourth place and is right behind New York. Philadelphia fell back but Detroit showed a flash of its theoretical strength and came through the week with a clean slate.

The Great Secret.

The regulation of our time is more important than the effort to get money. When we know how to regulate our time enough money will always come. Earning a living is only a matter of learning how to spend one's time. And singular as this may seem, it is not the time spent in earning a living that counts so much as the time spent when we are not earning it. It is what you do when you don't have to do anything that tells in the long run.

When, therefore, you are not busy trying to make both ends meet spend your time in associating with millionaires and people who have nothing to do but spend enormous incomes. You'll be a millionaire yourself before you know it. If you want to catch a disease always expose yourself to it.—Life.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York Markets.

New York, May 6.—The main influences of the week in the stock market were supplied by the government's plans for financing its allies and the persistence and inexplicable liquidation of railway shares, chiefly those of the investment section.

Wall Street was disappointed at the delay connected with the settlement of details of the $2,000,000,000, but proceeded to assist in the success of that stupendous undertaking.

Selling of railroad shares increased during the week, many of those stocks falling to the lowest quotation in years. In absence of definite news it was assumed that offerings of the securities originated largely from foreign interests.

Industrial and the prominent specialties lost little ground. United States Steel, backed and filled within a four point radius, other similar stocks a slightly wider range. Shipping and oils were subject to greater fluctuation, the former receding sharply as a result of the submarine menace and increasing evidence that the home government may soon make known its intention to "nationalize" American vessels.

Hardening of money rates ascribed to preparations now under way to meet the financial requirements of the government.

That sounds impossible, doesn't it? But we have been doing it for two years, and we find it pays—pays us as well as our customers.

KILL THE WEEDS.

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

"Spring plowing, or disk, as soon as the weed seeds have germinated, is usually a profitable practice. Where small grain is to be sown, the sowing should be done soon after plowing; but where corn, potatoes, or the sorghums are to be grown, there is often a period of several weeks between the time of the germination of the weed seeds and the time when the season is sufficiently advanced to plant the crop. This period should be utilized as far as possible for the destruction of weeds before the crop is planted. Much labor in keeping the crop free from weeds during its growing period can thus be saved."—E. C. Chilcott, agriculturist in charge, Washington, D. C.

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called frezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says frezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of frezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

Many luxuries are added, all paid for by savings made in this new body plant.

DOUBLE STRENGTH

Every vital part now has twice the needed strength. Our margins of safety have in three years been doubled.

The result is a lifetime car. Over 440 parts are made of toughened steel. All safety parts are oversized. All parts which get a major strain are built of Chrome-Vanadium.

Mitchell cars have proved that cars built this way will run over 200,000 miles.

NO SIMILAR CARS

No other car has these Mitchell extras. They cost us on this year's output about $4,000,000.

They are paid for by factory savings. John W. Bate, the great efficiency expert, has cut our factory cost in two. He has spent millions to build and equip a model plant for this single type.

Our savings go into these extras. Into extra features, extra strength and beauty. There are hundreds of them.

LEAVING THINGS UNDONE.

At a special meeting of the residents of the Hobart village school district on Friday evening last, the proposition that the district appropriate $35,000 for the erection of a new school building and $6,000 more for a site was submitted to the electors. The state education department was represented and after speeches by these representatives and others relative to the necessity of such a building, and by several citizens as to the inadvisability of erecting it at this time, the matter was put to vote and was defeated by a decisive majority.

Admitting that the Hobart school building is not what it should be, and that under normal conditions a new one should be built, it will be generally conceded that, as things now are, the district acted wisely. Present financial conditions are in a general way bad enough, and they are likely to be worse. The cost of all kinds of materials has greatly advanced, and it is not certain that, even if the community were willing to pay the price, delivery of these materials could be made, so great is the general demand and so scant the supply. The same thing is true of labor, skilled and unskilled. It cannot to any great extent be had, and if it could there are calls for it which are more imperative. These things will be presented to the State Education department, and it is not likely that it will insist on proceeding with the work.

This is only a solitary instance among many which could be noted. It is natural, perhaps, for any person deeply interested in a project—particularly a public one—to think that under any circumstances it should go through. This, however, is not the general opinion. It is not that of the Highway department, which will confine its construction work this year to narrowest limits. It is not that of the city of Oneonta, which will defer work on its sewage disposal plant and the laying of considerable amounts of pavement to a more favorable season. It is not the opinion of many men ordinarily engaged in building operations, who will do little this season, because of the practical difficulties in the way. It is not the opinion of this state, and other states, which are not going ahead with hospitals, and prisons which might have been thought imperative in happier times.

What is true of construction activities, is scarcely less so in matters of different import which in other years would have had great space in the newspapers, and consideration by communities and the nation. Just at this time the thoughts of all the people are to a great degree centered on the war problem, with all its ramifications of food supply, drilling and equipment, conscription, ship building, the making of munitions, the activities of the Red Cross and many others. These are essential things just now and they are those which everybody should think about and help in all ways possible. Whatever takes away from that interest and attention, whatever shortens the time which may be given to the Great Task, should be to a more convenient season. The holding of great conventions, the celebration of anniversaries, the observance of centennials, second and third and fourth centennials, in so far as they do not aid in the one important thing, can be left over, even if the final celebration of them when it comes should be a year or two late. Nobody, for an example, was much grieved, nor was the event itself less magnificent, because the great World's fair in Chicago was not held on the exact four-hundredth year after Columbus sailed for America.

There is a great knack in leaving things undone—not permanently but to a better season. Everybody does it in every occupation, doing instead the thing which cannot wait. And it is the knack to win in the world war it will be because they have devoted themselves heartily and wholly to the things which must not be neglected.

FUNDS FOR WORTHY CAUSE.

Mary Pickford in Hilda of Holland at Oneonta Theatre Wednesday.

Under the auspices of the Child Welfare committee of the Woman's club there will be three benefit performances at the Oneonta theatre on Wednesday of this week—at 7:45 for school children with clapperboard present so that children may be admitted without their parents, and at 7 and 9 p. m. for all ages. The popular screen star, Mary Pickford, will be seen in Hilda of Holland, a picture which is pronounced one of the best in her repertoire.

The proceeds of these entertainments, aside from the cost of the reels, will be devoted to the care of little unfortunate whom Miss Dawson, the social worker, has found in her work about the city. Some require surgical aid and will be crippled for life if relief is not promptly afforded.

The ladies engaged in this very commendable work solicit a liberal patronage assuring all that they will be well repaid for a visit to the theatre on Wednesday and will also be aiding in one of the most appealing charities which can be named.

EMORY POTTLE SPEAKS

Returns from Field Ambulance Service in France to Secure Men and Equipment—Would Be Pleased to Visit Oneonta.

Emory Pottle, who is conducting a state-wide campaign to secure men and equipment for ambulance service in France and who was graduated from the Oneonta Normal school in 1895, has just returned from France, after a year and a half with the American Field Ambulance service. He is lecturing in colleges and in public, describing his experiences at the front and urging that the American people give as generously as possible toward the funds and has made progress not only in obtaining co-operation on this side, but also with the men who are already there.

While Mr. Pottle found only four sections in service when he went abroad, there are now eighteen, and seven sections are ready to go when called. The American units, the flying and ambulance corps, have done notable service, Mr. Pottle enthusiastically declares.

Speaking at New York university Saturday, he described the work of the Americans in France as "a piece of history." He commented on the fact that 450,000 wounded Frenchmen had been carried by American ambulances since the outbreak of the war, Mr. Pottle himself having done strenuous work in this field.

"While you over here were deciding on whether you'd go to war, whether you'd go at all, and particularly 'What is the moral issue?' we boys went out to France and founded a little school of patriotism of our own. That's what it amounted to, a school of patriotism. While we were lifting in the broken bones of French soldiers, you were hanging up posters and urging men to join the United States army for various reasons."

Mr. Pottle spoke of the "higher patriotism" which this country needs, and deplores that citizens should look for material benefits before enlisting. He related an incident which, he said, showed a "purifying kind of patriotism."

While he was lifting a peasant into an ambulance Mr. Pottle says, he noticed that the man's both arms were shattered. "I'm sorry for you, old chap," Mr. Pottle told him in French. The man looked up wistfully.

"I entered the war," he said, "to give my life to France. But you see, m'sieu, she has only taken my arms." When asked by some of the students what schooling he had received, Mr. Pottle spoke of the Oneonta Normal school with fervor, and said he would be glad if a meeting were organized there, so that he could launch his appeal to the students as well as see some of his "old Oneonta friends."

LEE F. HAMNER NAMED.

Member of Committee to Keep Camp Life Clean.

A dispatch from Washington says: "Raymond S. Fosdick of New York was named by Secretary Baker today as chairman of an advisory committee to consult with the secretary regarding the 'checking of moral hazards frequently associated with camp life,' in connection with the army mobilization."

"The other members of the committee are Lee F. Hamner of New York, Joseph Lee of Boston, Malcolm L. McBride of Cleveland, John H. Mott of the International Y. M. C. A., Joseph Raycroft, physical director of Princeton university; Major Palmer E. Pierce, army general staff, Charles P. Mill and Thomas J. Howells of Pittsburgh."

Lee F. Hamner, named as one of the members of the committee, is a graduate of the Oneonta State Normal school and has been active and efficient in Y. M. C. A. and other work of a similar character. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his designation to assist in this truly important duty. Certainly the government owes a duty to the parents who are giving their boys to their country to see that they are not subjected to demoralizing conditions surrounding military camps.

STILL SHOVELING SNOW.

Snow to a Depth of Several Inches Reported in Vicinity.

Several vicinity villages reported snow to the depth of several inches on Saturday morning and during the day considerable snow fell, the ground in the city was wet and most of it falling here melted soon, creating slush.

At Stamford snow shovels were pressed into service again and it is reliably stated that there and at other places in the western Catskills some dairymen drew their milk to the station that morning on runners. At East Worcester several inches of snow remained for hours, while the hills about this city were white and so remained throughout Sunday.

There is no occasion for alarm over the lateness of the season, as good crops may be secured even though late planting results. It is far better to have the snow and cold now than in June or July.

Timely Observations.

Clean up your lawn and add to your food supply at the same time. What's the answer?—Dandelions.

A mouthful of food wasted at the table may mean one less mouthful for some hungry citizen of the world.

"The farmers of this country can defeat the German submarine and when they do so they destroy the last hope of the Prussian," says Lloyd George to the English farmers.

Both French and English agricultural authorities are recommending the use of American tractors and other farm machinery. England is even considering night plowing with tractors carrying searchlights.

Both Needed.

This is not a time when we are advised to beat plowshares into swords. There is a demand for about an equal number of both.—[Philadelphia Press.]

GIRLS TAKE PLACES OF MEN IN NEW YORK HOTEL

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Irrigation For the East.

Irrigation in the east is no experiment, though it has not been practiced extensively. A few fruit farmers and market gardeners whose land is advantageously located have grown rich by irrigating their crops in dry weather. A farmer can refresh his strawberry patch and take advantage of the dry spell to cut and cure his hay at the same time. The finest vegetables and fruits that reach the markets of New York, Boston and Philadelphia are grown in the vicinity of these cities.

It would be easier and cheaper to construct irrigation works in the east than in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states, and the supply of water would be more abundant and more constant while less would be needed. In many sections of the east all that is needed is to run irrigating ditches from the rivers, without building costly dams and long high-level canals. Farmers co-operate in draining lands and it would be as simple to write in putting water on the land. Irrigation would double the value and often the yield of every truck farm within 100 miles of the large cities of the east. Only those who have seen irrigated land can appreciate the value of being able to water a crop just when it is needed.—[New York Commercial.]

Crop Planting in South.

A special effort is being made to interest the southerners in making big planting for food crops. Their land is very fertile and can yield a great many products besides cotton. This is needed and its acreage ought not to be reduced because if business is to go on as usual there must be raw material and plenty of it to make work and wages in the mills. It is unquestionably true that the southern states could raise much bigger crops than they are accustomed to if they would really engage in industrious endeavor. It is often and truthfully said that one northern farmer will do more work in a day or a week than two southerners, but as a matter of fact when northerners go south it takes them only a year or two to acquire the habits of the new neighborhood.—[Springfield Republican.]

In Addition to Swatting.

The city entomologist of Philadelphia says swatting the flies does no good when the bodies of the flies are allowed to remain where they fall. The bacteria the fly carries continues to exist in its body and eventually propagates and is absorbed by the humans. Fly swatting, he further says, is simply a subterfuge for people remaining filthy. Remove the ashes and garbage and burn piles where the flies breed and there will be no necessity for swatting them. Many will agree with the entomologist in some of the things he says but will continue to believe that in addition it is a good measure of defense to also swat.—[Cathartide Leader.]

Oregon and Angola Goats.

Oregonians at the front gain with activity in shearing angora goats and selling the mohair at 65 cents a pound. That is the top price of the age, but the goat farmers are expecting 75 cents a pound later, and wondering how the sheep farmers can feel satisfied with 45 cents a pound for their wool. The angoras will be more of a favorite after the war in this country. They are not bothered by dogs like the sheep, and they have sustained their newspaper fame for clearing the country of brush and making more room for grasses to grow.—[Worcester Telegram.]

"The Spirit of 1917."

In spite of judicial precedents, Supreme Court Justice Kelly of Brooklyn has asserted a principle of law which ought to meet the widest sanction. In opposition to the claim of a woman, a subject of Germany, for damages from a subway construction company for injuries received, it was contended that the plaintiff was an enemy alien and hence had no standing in an American court.

Overruling the motion to dismiss the suit, the justice held that he had sufficient authority for his decision in the recent proclamation of President Wilson, who guaranteed to all subjects of enemy powers every civil right as long as they observed the law. Describing this as "the spirit of 1917," the justice said it was one of which we should be proud. An award of $500 was made by the jury in the case.

We have entered the war in support of justice such humane principles as were here most emphatically maintained. In their many larger applications which must soon demand attention, let us hope they will be adhered to as honorably.—[New York World.]

What Hoarding Will Do.

Few inhabitants of New York are able to store food supplies in quantity, and yet, if all yield to the impulse to hoard even in a small way, they bid against each other and contribute to the scarcity which inevitably produces high prices. The spring of the year is no time to lay in food stocks, anyway, and purchases made now in panic will be regretted later on.—[New York World.]

No Place for Politics.

The success of the state police depends upon the military organization and training of its men. Major Chandler is the kind of man required for that work. His nomination is for fitness, not politics. Politics in the constabulary would be fatal.—[New York Times.]

DEATH OF MAYOR LUNN

CITY'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE EXPIRES SATURDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Many Years Resident and a Leading Citizen of Oneonta—Two Years Village President and Mayor of City for Three — Demise Deeply Regretted Throughout City—Funeral Tuesday Afternoon—Interment at Morris.

Joseph S. Lunn, mayor of the city of Oneonta, died at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, after prolonged illness, at his home, 6 Walnut street. His last hours were peaceful, and surrounded by all the members of his immediate family, he passed quietly to rest.

The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his late residence. The service will be conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Dr. James C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church in this city. Interment will be in the Lunn and Gregory family plot in the Hilling cemetery at Morris, where the bodies of his parents and a brother are laid at rest.

All who desire to pay their respects to the deceased but who may be unable to attend the funeral services may do so between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock Tuesday morning when the house will be open for that purpose.

Mr. Lunn's illness, which was of pernicious anaemia, dated from August, Joseph S. Lunn.

1915, though it was not until the following January that his condition became alarming. After several months of illness, he to a measure recovered, and during the following summer resumed oversight of his extensive business interests. A second attack followed in December last, and from this he also to some extent rallied, and during the past month had been about the city and at his office. On Sunday, April 29, he was out in his automobile for the last time. From that date he rapidly failed, and on Thursday lapsed into a state of coma, from which he at no time fully rallied, and as above stated passed peacefully to rest Saturday morning.

Joseph Seth Lunn was born October 27, 1868, in the town of New Lisbon and was the eldest of the three sons of William and Carrie (Gregory) Lunn, who resided near Welcome (then New Lisbon Center) in that township. On the paternal side he was of Scotch descent, both his grandfather and grandmother having come from Scotland to America. On the maternal side his great-grandfather, Ezekiah Gregory, came from Connecticut to the present town of New Lisbon in 1776, settling on the farm where Joseph S. Lunn was born, and which was the latter's home until he removed in 1889 to Oneonta. Both the Lunn and Gregory families were of sturdy old-world stock and their characteristics were in a high degree manifest in their descendant whose death we so greatly deplore.

For a short time after coming to the then village of Oneonta Mr. Lunn was engaged in the wood business. Later he was an employee in the hop office of L. Westcott, and afterwards was

ARE FARMERS INDIFFERENT?

MANY APPEAR UNWILLING TO INCREASE ACREAGE OF FOOD CROPS.

Little Demand for High School Boys to Assist in Farm Work Reports Frank D. Robinson After Two Days' Efforts in the County.

If the experiences of Frank D. Robinson, representing the board of education of Greater New York in efforts to place high school students, who have volunteered as Farm Cadets, among the farmers of Osego county, may be taken as a criterion, there is an indifference to the needs of the nation that should result in a lively campaign to arouse activity. After two days of visitation among the farmers, who were reported by the agricultural census as desirous of securing help, he returned to Oneonta last night with only 10 cadets placed and three others conditionally. He came up-state prepared to bring here in a few days a party of 25 or 30 young men from 16 to 18 years who are willing to work and do not ask for men's wages nor to be given a summer outing. All that is demanded for the young men, who come from good homes, is that they be well nourished and given such labor as they can perform and that they for two or three weeks be strengthened and developed before being required to do a full day's work.

Mr. Robinson hesitated not to voice his surprise to find so many farmers who are making no provision to increase their acreage of food products and who seem to have no appreciation of a duty to perform to assist in feeding the world at large. Some indeed were quite outspoken in declaring that they were unwilling to make any special effort for larger crops, because not assured a profitable market. Others admitted being satisfied if they can meet the needs of their own households.

Mr. Robinson confessed that he would not have been surprised had some farmers taken an attitude of opposition to high school help because of their inexperience and fear that they might prove unprofitable. He was prepared to assure them that he knows personally the young men and of their earnest desire to help and their willingness to work. To find indifference and apparent unwillingness to assume whatever of risk there may be that a remunerative price will be received in the fall is a source of much surprise to him as it will be to others.

Mr. Robinson will make another trip today, hoping to find conditions more encouraging, and it is confidently believed that he will meet with a more hearty response and find a greater inclination to support the movement for more food products.

Certainly our farmers are not "slackers," and if they are skeptical relative to the city boy and his ability to help, some means should be employed to correct this impression. The cadets deserve a chance to make good, and if no other avenue is open then public spirited citizens should unite in leasing a half dozen or more farms and hire competent farmers to direct and get in some crops. The production of food is quite as essential as the making of munitions or sending men to the front, and he who at this time aids in increasing the season's production is doing a patriotic duty.

IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE DEAL.

William Bronk Exchanges Block and House for Dibble Farm at Emmons.

An important real estate deal was consummated in this city on Saturday, when papers were signed by which Fred S. Dibble purchases from William Bronk the three story brick block at 21 Chestnut street, the first floor of which is occupied by the Hubbard Billiard parlors, and the house, 83 Ford avenue, known as the Ingraham place and now occupied by Floyd S. Taylor. Mr. Bronk takes in exchange the excellent farm at Emmons owned by Mr. Dibble, and formerly known as the M. N. Rowe farm.

Possession will be given in each instance on June 1, on which date it is the expectation of Mr. Bronk to move to the farm purchased by him.

Photoplay Treat at the Theatre.

One of the most attractive photoplays in which dainty Mabel Taliaferro has yet been seen, is "The Barcade," the feature photoplay which will be screened at the Oneonta theatre today. Miss Taliaferro interprets the charming part of a brilliant society girl, which gives her splendid opportunity for a lavish display of beautiful gowns. A variety of social functions, such as teas, weddings and musicals, together with thrilling scenes on the curb and "on change," are among the many pleasing and exciting features of this play. The latest Pathé News is also screened. Tomorrow Jesse L. Lasky introduces a new star to the Paramount program, in the person of Margaret Livingston, long a popular favorite of the spoken drama. ## DEATH OF MAYOR LUNN with him in the ice business. Later he purchased a controlling interest in this business and organized the Oneonta Ice company, of which until this time he had remained in complete control as president and manager. Though this was his principal occupation, he also had considerable real estate interests and at the time of his death, in addition to city realty, owned the Hillcrest farm on the cemetery road about two miles from Oneonta.

Absorbing as were his personal interests, Mr. Lunn was a public spirited citizen, always willing to heed the call of his city, when his services in civic capacities were demanded. He was trustee of the village for six years, during which time the Main street viaduct was built and the Main and Broad street brick pavements were laid—the first in the village. He was president of the board for two years and when the new city government was organized was one of the first appointees of Mayor Morris to a position on the board of public works, of which for two years he was chairman. In November, 1913, the quality of his public service obtained recognition in his election as third mayor of the city, succeeding Mayor Frank D. Blodgett on January 1, 1914. He administered the office with dignity, fairness and ability and in November, 1915, was re-elected by a handsome plurality. The value of his services to the city cannot be overestimated. The same prudence, judgment and foresight which he displayed in the conduct of his personal affairs were shown in his public administrative capacity, and he leaves behind him a record of well-doing which will be a precious heritage to his family.

His personal business and his official duties, however, by no means were the boundaries of his activities. He was from childhood a member of the Baptist church, with which he united at Welome. On his removal to Oneonta he united with the First Baptist church of this city, and ever since has been a consistent member of the society and a liberal supporter of its various interests. He was also a member and director of the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Oneonta club, of the Oneonta Automobile club and of the Masonic lodge and chapter in this city. The same characteristics which distinguished him in his personal and public affairs were marks of all his other activities—thoroughness, an active interest and an unselfish liberality.

It is not easy even for one who had known him well, to give any full or satisfactory estimate of the character and work of the deceased. As mayor of the city, succeeding two men as distinguished as Albert Morris and Prof. Frank D. Blodgett, it is high praise to say that his work suffered nothing by comparison with that of his predecessors. He was always alert for the public welfare, and many of the principal improvements of which the city boasts were conceived by him or had his hearty support. To the church of his choice he was always devoted, and in its councils he will be greatly missed. As a business man he was energetic and successful. As a neighbor and friend he was a fine type of manhood—loyal, unselfish, generous and willing under any circumstances to spend and be spent in their service. Numberless as were his benefactions, he made no display of them, and many hearts were lightened which never knew whence the gift came. It can be truly said that to none who were worthy he ever turned a deaf or unsympathetic ear. In the family circle his passing will most deeply be felt, as that of a loving husband and father, who never even in the midst of life's activities was too busy to remember their prior claim, and who kept with his children to the last the spirit of youth that made him one with them.

Mayor Lunn is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Minnie Westcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luzerne Westcott of this city, to whom he was married in February, 1892, and by two children—Charlotte and William Lunn. He leaves also one brother, Prof. Morris A. Lunn of New York city, who arrived in Oneonta on Wednesday and was with him until the end. A second brother, C. Sumner Lunn, died about 15 years ago.

Though the burden of loss naturally falls with greatest weight upon the immediate family, the flax which flies at half-mast on the city hall carries its message of sorrow also to a multitude of others—neighbors, friends, employees and business associates—who knew his worth and realize that with his death a fine, loyal, indomitable, generous and self-denying spirit has passed from earth.

Proclamation.

The Angel of Death has again visited our city and called from our midst our beloved mayor, Joseph S. Lunn. For many years he had been closely identified with the business and civic life of our city, active in its growth and development and ready at all times to give more than his share of time and energy to its welfare. His life was in a large measure devoted to the public service. In civic affairs and in business relations his record is clean and honorable. He was an ideal citizen, serving with the respect of all his second term as mayor. To him and to his memory we owe a tribute of unstinted praise.

It is therefore directed that until after his funeral flags on public buildings be displayed at half-mast; that the Municipal building be draped in mourning and that on Tuesday, May 8, the city offices be closed. It is also requested that all business places of every name and nature close their doors and refrain from business from 1 to 2 p. m. on Tuesday, during the hour of funeral service, thereby honoring the memory of a just and upright public official and fellow citizen.

(Signed) Andrew E. Ceperley,
Acting Mayor, City of Oneonta.

SANDERS-AUGUSTIN NUPTIALS

Miss Helene Dewey Augustin Becomes Bride of William Webb Sanders of Boston.

At 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, May 5, Miss Helene Dewey Augustin of this city was married to William Webb Sanders of Boston, Mass. The wedding was at "The Maples," the summer home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Augustin, at Laurens. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George C. Dickinson, rector of St. James Protestant Episcopal church of Oneonta, the full Episcopal service with ring being used. Sherman Mills Fairchild of Oneonta was best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Eloise Augustin, a sister of the bride, with Master George William Augustin and Miss Elise Caroline Augustin, a younger brother and sister, as attendants. Only a few intimate personal friends, besides relatives, were present.

The bride's gown was of lace over white satin. She carried a bouquet of white roses and wore an antique pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. The veil was a rare piece of antique point lace, bearing the royal crest and monogram, and had been worn by a queen of France. It was the gift of Mrs. Bertram C. Webb of Paris, grandmother of the groom. The bridesmaid was gowned in white net and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom and the bride's father wore the military service uniform, the latter giving away the bride. The wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Frederick O. Augustin.

The house decorations, which were alike artistic and patriotic, as befitted the families of both bride and groom, were of evergreens, with which were displayed the flags of the nine allied nations. The table decorations were of white lilies.

Following the ceremony and congratulations, delicious refreshments were served, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanders departed at 8:25 p. m. from Oneonta for the east. They will be at home at Laurens after May 15, but later they will reside in France.

Mr. Sanders is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel S. H. Sanders of "Birchbrow," Haverhill, Mass. He is a member of the class of 1917, Harvard university, and has spent two seasons at the Plattsburg Training camp. He has passed the preliminary examinations for officers' commission and has been ordered to Plattsburg for three months' training. He is well and very pleasantly known among the younger set in Oneonta, where for several years he has spent a portion of each summer. The Sanders and Webb families have long been socially prominent in the Old Bay state, the former in the vicinity of Boston, while the Webbs are an old seafaring family of Salem.

The bride is a graduate of the Oneonta High school and is an artist of exceptional ability. She has studied abroad in London and in Paris, with lectures at the Sorbonne, and is a member of the Art Students' league of New York, where for several years she has studied. A fine picture from her brush was shown this spring at the annual exhibition of the league. She is a young lady of pleasing personality and has a multitude of friends in Oneonta, who, while extending best wishes to the bride, will also heartily congratulate the groom upon his marital good fortune.

The relatives from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel S. H. Sanders of Haverhill, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin of Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Muriel Sanders Draper of New York city, Mrs. George W. Augustin sr. of New Jersey and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Augustin of University Heights, New York city. The out-of-town guests were entertained at dinner Friday night by Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Cutler, at whose home Mr. and Mrs. Sanders were guests during their sojourn in the city. A notable feature of the wedding was the handsome display of wedding gifts, including silver, glass and jewels.

Mrs. Bertram C. Webb, the grandmother of the groom, in addition to her large establishment in Paris on the rue Richard Wagner, has also a home at Capri and a fine estate in Brittany. She is an intensely loyal and patriotic American and is devoted to the cause of the allies, having given up her Paris mansion entirely to the French nation as a hospital for soldiers.

DODGE BROTHERS CAR

Ordered by Wireless—Irrigation Expert Radios for Touring Car.

The extremities to which some men will go to obtain a motor car which has proved its worth to them is indicated by a unique delivery recently made by the A. E. Staacke Auto company, Dodge Brothers dealers in San Antonio, Texas.

Some time ago they sold a Dodge Brothers touring car to Alexander Boynton, who developed and operated the Winter Garden Irrigation company at Uvalde, Texas. After finishing his work, he sold his car and left for an extended steamship tour of the South American countries.

On his way home, he began to think of his need for a dependable motor car. So he made use of the Marconi on his steamship, which was then in the middle of the Caribbean sea, off the coast of Honduras, and sent the following message:

SS. Tetadorea at Sea, Via Tropical Radio Wireless, New Orleans 5.

Staacke.

San Antonio, Texas.

Have Dodge automobile ready deliver sixteenth.

Boynton.

When Mr. Boynton arrived in San Antonio his Dodge Brothers touring car was waiting for him, and one of the few motor cars sales made by use of wireless was completed.

Will arrive in Oneonta Thursday afternoon on the U. & D. with three carloads of fresh and fall cows from Sullivan county, ready for sale Friday May 4. Peaslee & Bouton. advt 1t
